22.07.26 - Scottish singer-songwriter Blair Davie (they/them) returns with new single ‘You Must Be A Miracle’, out now via Giant Music. Listen here.

The third release from their upcoming EP, 'You Must Be A Miracle' sees Blair Davie continue to pull the heartstrings of their listeners, with a tale of gratitude for a loved one. 'You Like Ugly, Don't You Babe' is out 9th September via Giant Music. Pre-save here.

A soaring, heartfelt ballad, 'You Must Be A Miracle' pairs Blair Davie's unmistakable, soul-stirring vocals with an anthemic melody, capturing the gratitude that comes with being loved through life's darkest moments. Honest and emotionally resonant, the track showcases Blair's gift for turning deeply personal experiences into songs that connect on a universal level.

Speaking on the track, Blair Davie says "I thought I had finished the writing of the EP and then realised that I was missing one important song: the one that says thank you to the person that saved my life. I believe we all have someone out there; a friend, family, your partner: who can see you at your lowest and still love you. This song is dedicated to them."

This follows recent single 'So What?', which saw Blair embrace a more expansive, upbeat sound while retaining their signature emotional honesty and lyrical vulnerability. Built around an infectious sense of release, the track captures the moment of choosing love when everything says walk away. As well as, 'When You Fall In Love', which explored healing and connection across past and future selves. The three tracks set the tone for Blair's upcoming EP, titled 'You Like Ugly, Don't You Babe'. Expanding into a more rhythm-led sound while continuing to explore themes of love, identity, resilience and transformation.

Blair Davie has quickly established themselves as one of the UK's most compelling emerging voices, known for their rare vocal tone and emotionally direct songwriting. Their work sits alongside artists such as Alex Warren, Dermot Kennedy, Tom Odell and Lewis Capaldi, balancing intimacy with widescreen, anthemic impact.

Previous releases include the acclaimed EP 'First And Last', featuring standout tracks 'Crashing the Car', 'Wouldn't Be Right' and 'Butterflies'. The project earned critical support from The Telegraph, Clash, Wonderland and Official Charts.

Live highlights include support slots for James Arthur at The O2 London and Glasgow's OVO Hydro, as well as performances at SXSW and The Great Escape. Blair will also perform at Latitude Festival in Suffolk on 26 July, before supporting Mika at Glasgow's Kelvingrove Bandstand on 29 July, plus further UK headline dates in London (Barfly, 24 November), Glasgow (King Tuts, 26 November) and Manchester (Deaf Institute, 28 November) this autumn, alongside a run of European festival and support shows across Germany, the Netherlands, France and Ireland.

After introducing themselves with a flurry of exciting singles, the London-based Scottish born and raised singer-songwriter has been tipped as one of the most anticipated new artists on the rise right now. A seasoned performer, they have been writing music and fronting bands since they were a teenager. Blair's rise can be pinpointed to the honesty and strength of their songwriting, as well as having one of those rare voices that has the power to speak to our very souls. This talent has not gone unnoticed, with them receiving Amazon Music's UK Rising Star Award, alongside an Ivor Novello Award nomination, at aged just 23.

Blair has amassed 40K followers (across Instagram and TikTok), been officially playlisted on Spotify, toured the UK and Europe with the likes of JP Cooper, Emile Sande, Sam Fischer and Fatherson, played Great Escape, Live at Leeds, Belladrum and Sziget festivals, was the face of Zermatt Unplugged festival and sold out both London's Laylow and Slaughtered Lamb.
